

Fabrizio FasuloDirector of Policy and Planning at Virginia housing

Extensive experience in reporting and presenting in front of policy and decision makers, from city councils to state senate and house committees, including executive leadership (mayors, state secretaries and department directors).

Extensive experience in the fields of community development, housing, strategic planning and economic development in Virginia and its sub-regions.

Familiar with key players and stakeholders in the Virginia housing and community development arena.

Strong quantitative and qualitative analytical skills for program evaluation and policy formulation. Strategic thinker, team player, strong organizational and managerial skills.