

David Jeavons, CPA
Vice President of Finance
Roanoke Regional Airport Commission

Since 2014, David has served as Vice President of Finance for the Roanoke Regional Airport Commission, where he leads daily and monthly accounting operations for a regional airport. In this role, he manages financial risk, oversees financing for major construction projects, and direct property portfolio strategy. He also collaborates with department managers to develop budgets, analyzes financial performance against projections, and reports operational results to leadership and external agencies.

David is also known for a collaborative approach, strong interpersonal skills, and a consistent commitment to accuracy and excellence. He brings expertise in financial analysis, budgeting, forecasting, SEC filings, and audit processes. His background also includes managing fixed assets, foreign currency transactions, financial due diligence, tax preparation, and overseeing monthly close and reporting cycles.
